THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. [redacted] a lumber warehouse of the Lithuanian SSR Forest Enterprises, which was located in Lenciu nava. [redacted] this warehouse, which has a storage capacity of about 4000 cubic meters, [redacted] 25X1
2. [redacted] about fifty men wearing Soviet Air Force uniforms worked in a forest adjacent to the lumber yard. These Air Force men worked exclusively at hewing two types of lumber from trees which they felled: boards about two meters long, resembling railroad ties in size and shape; and beams about five or six meters long, 35 to 40 centimeters thick, and 35 to 40 centimeters wide. Neither of these two types of lumber were oiled, tarred, or processed in any other manner. Nobody but Air Force personnel worked at hewing these types of lumber. 25X1
3. [redacted] Soviet Air Force personnel came to the lumber yard daily in trucks to haul away the lumber described above. The lumber was taken to Soviet airfields in Lithuania, including Panevezys and Zokne. The number of trucks taking lumber from the yard averaged ten or twelve per day, each of which had a capacity of about seven or eight cubic meters. [redacted] no knowledge as to how long these shipments went on, other than that they were taking place during [redacted] nor [redacted] 25X1
[redacted] what percentage of the shipments was composed of the beams as opposed to the railroad tie types. 25X1
4. [redacted] saw four trucks loaded as described above. [redacted] these trucks were going to Panevezys airfield. 25X1
